EDUCATION PORTFOLIO

EDUCATION CHAIR (UNCONTESTED)

Kayley Crebbin (MD3)

Hi everyone, my name is Kayley and I am nominating for the position of Education Chair in 2021!

I am passionate about ensuring that everyone can receive the best education possible and have always been willing to make my voice heard to make this happen. Furthermore, I am passionate about assisting others to find study resources that work for them and about encouraging collaboration in the search for good study materials (free Anki decks, anyone?).

The role of Education Chair will be especially important as MD1 changes yet again to accommodate the new IMSCP pathway. As part of the second cohort to have gone through the most recent iteration of MD1, I understand the difficulties that course structure changes can have on students and faculty members alike. If I am elected as Education Chair, I will try to make this transition as smooth as possible by facilitating discussions between the student body and the Faculty.

I would be honoured to have the chance to be your Education Chair for next year and I hope that you would consider voting for me to make that happen!

FEMALE THIRD YEAR REPRESENTATIVE (NO NOMINATIONS)

MALE THIRD YEAR REPRESENTATIVE (NO NOMINATIONS)

FEMALE FOURTH YEAR REPRESENTATIVE (NO NOMINATIONS)

MALE FOURTH YEAR REPRESENTATIVE (UNCONTESTED)

Tom Russell (MD4)

My name is Tom and I look forward to the opportunity to represent our cohort as the MD4 year rep! If you don't know me I love free coffee on rounds (FW, thanks xo), music, travelling and profusely sweating when asked basic questions by consultants.

MD4 is arguably our most important year as a medical student. I hope to make the journey to graduation as smooth as possible!

My goals for the year are to:

- Build on our communication and relationship with faculty to have clear and concise guidance on expectations and deadlines.
- Bring our cohort together for our final year with an array of social events
- Engage with faculty and WAMSS to enhance student wellbeing and availability of social and academic support services.
- Seek guidance and streamline internship applications.

Representing our cohort would be a humbling experience and I hope to share the journey with you.

I'll leave it to Adam Kay to summarise our life post MD4.

"So I told them the truth: the hours are terrible, the pay is terrible, the conditions are terrible; you're underappreciated, unsupported, disrespected and frequently physically endangered. But there's no better job in the world."

— Adam Kay, This is Going to Hurt

Tom

(Current MD2 Orientation Representative)

SOCIAL PORTFOLIO

SOCIAL REPRESENTATIVES (UNCONTESTED)

Chloe Gwynne, Tamika Bland, Shanae Jupp
(MD1)

Hi everyone!

Our names are Chloe, Tamika and Shanae, and we are a bunch of current MD1s who are keen to be your 2021 social reps for WAMSS!

When we started MD1, we were told time and time again, 'the best part of MD1 is the social events'.

Unfortunately, we missed out on socialising for a huge part of MD1, and we want to channel all of our post-COVID social ~energies~ into running awesome events for you all next year!

We have had committee and event organisation experience between us- with Shanae being a MD1 WAMSS rep, Tamika being the MD1 UWASS rep, and Chloe is swimming the Rottneest channel swim solo- so what can't she do?

The three of us are inspired to keep the wonderful social portfolio of WAMSS going strong, especially in a year that social opportunities were limited. We believe that social events are incredibly important to medical student wellbeing, and offer great opportunity for cohorts to bond, and to meet students from different MD year groups.

If elected, we hope to throw three AMAZING events to make up for the chunk of 2020 that us MD students spent in lockdown. <3

MD1 ORIENTATION EVENTS COORDINATORS (UNCONTESTED)

Ella Forkin & Sarah Mullen (MD2)

With a passion to get involved, and create atmosphere for our fellow peers, we (Ella and Sarah) would love to represent you as your MD1 Orientation Coordinators for 2021. Both having previous experience in organising events and catering for a wide range of people; as President and Cultural Officer at St Catherine's College for Ella, and in a Hospitality Function Manager role for Sarah; we would love to bring these skills into the organisation of an incredible orientation for MD1.

Having experienced the crazy reality of millions of lectures ourselves, tied up with the wonders of Marcus Dabner's Star War intros in pathology and Rob White's little giggles at himself; organising this event for 2021 MD1's would be highly rewarding for both of us. As an important year which is both incredibly challenging and rewarding, we understand the importance of friends and cohort cohesion throughout the med school experience. Through organising this orientation we would hope to provide a fun and comfortable experience for those going into MD1, where they can build strong relationships and establish meaningful connections within their cohort, right from the beginning.

With artistic flare, communication and leadership skills ready to be used, we would love to create a rewarding, cohesive and engaging orientation for all...filled with excitement, academic insight and the building of close knit friendships, as they stick by each other for late night study sessions, early morning lectures and many fun social activities...all on the path to getting that 'Dr' title.

MD2 ORIENTATION EVENTS COORDINATORS (UNCONTESTED)

Alex Armanios & Aaro Ragu (MD3)

Hello everyone, we're delighted to announce that we'll be running for MD2 Orientation Coordinators for 2021! After having the time of our lives at MD2 camp this year, we are incredibly motivated to create a similarly spectacular experience for our comrades in the year below!

One of the aspects of camp we really want to focus on is the integration between the students coming in from MD1 and those coming from Medical Science. Nothing forges new friendships like a night of (controlled) mayhem, and we want to harness this chaotic energy to get the MD Class of 2023 off to a roaring start! Exciting competitions, professional DJs, and TOP NOTCH banter are just a few things that we will bring to the table if we are elected.

Beyond Orientation Camp, we're also keen to make the Welcome BBQ a really pleasant opportunity for mingling before the onslaught of clinical prep. Both of us have lots of experience planning events and are more than capable of creating something amazing for the clinicians of tomorrow.

Thank you for your time and be sure to vote 1 for Alex and Aaro! #2021vision

ALLIED HEALTH REPRESENTATIVES (NO NOMINATIONS)

MEDICAL DINNER REPRESENTATIVES (UNCONTESTED)

Matthew Mann (MD4), Caitlyn Taylor (MD4) &
Carina Pretorius (MD3)

Picture this: the year is 2021, you're at the WAMSS Medical Dinner with all your mates, completely immersed in the night... you have entirely forgotten the fiasco that was 2020 – COVID who?

Seem impossible? Not with us on your side! Between the three of us, we have years of experience in organising major events with our team including the former WAMSS Social Rep, North Cottesloe Surf Lifesaving Club Social Rep and Code Green Events Coordinator. We've planned everything from balls to pub crawls to art exhibitions and cocktail parties. For next year exclusively, we are combining all this experience to create one memorable night to bring together the entire medical cohort from freshers to fourth years; carnivores to omnivores, and yes – even the vegans!

On our team we have:

- Matthew: Life of the party but also mother of the group (will keep you safe)
- Caitlyn: My 2019 social event broke a ship (will make it memorable)
- Carina: Representing people <5'2, vegans, people who love balls (will be inclusive)

Please elect us to be your 2021 Medical Dinner Representatives. We (hopefully) cannot wait to bring you the best medical dinner you have ever had the pleasure of experiencing!

COMMUNICATIONS PORTFOLIO

MARKETING OFFICERS (UNCONTESTED)

Jun-Ting Yeung & Alexander Lawrie (MD2)

Alexander (Queer eye) and JT (Straight guy) have an eye for detail, and a passion for creating beautiful designs. Together, they will work together to improve upon the WAMSS brand. We have plans to elevate the medical student campus image, leading to a more recognisability, student body cohesiveness and general perceptions. Those who see us will want to dress like us, act like us and ultimately be US. There will be a large emphasis on introducing new merchandise and clothing items. Bringing back the classic rugby polo with a fresh new design and adding new pieces that people will actually want to buy and wear out and about. We have goals to create a seasonal line of WAMSS merchandise to increase MD visibility in inter-faculty events, on campus, and larger medical student events.

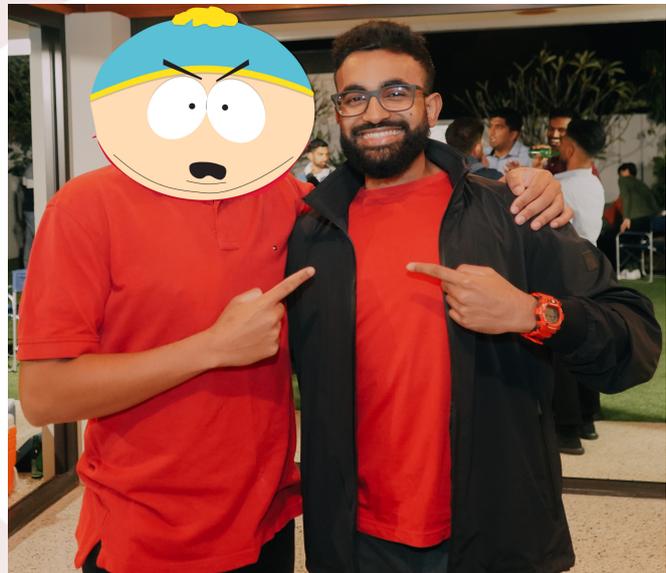

Alexander has studied at UWA for 8 years, so he knows the ins and out of the workings of the University and has seen both great and terrible merch in his days. He understands the tastes of local Perthians, and what is missing in the market. Complimenting this, JT arrived in Perth in the beginning of the year, with his travels taking him from Beijing, Melbourne and most recently Hong Kong. He brings an international perspective and keen interest in social media branding to the role.

UNDERGRADUATE COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER (2 NOMINATIONS)

Duji Jayabalan (MD3)

Hi! My name is Duji Jayabalan and I would love to nominate myself for the position of Undergraduate Communications Officer (UCO).

My past experience that required significant organisational ability includes being on WAMSS Foundation and being an AMSA Policy Officer, amongst others. Both roles required teamwork, significant time commitment and lots of innovative ideas. I believe my experience in these roles has given me great skills I can apply to be a great UCO. I'm keen to bring fresh events and new ways to help make the undergrad experience the best possible.

Having completed the medical sciences major myself, I know it's vitally important to maintain a strong relationship with undergraduate students, particularly with the constant changes to the medical sciences course (rip) and the introduction of the new IMSCP double major. With change always comes a transition period that may negatively impact student education and well-being, and I hope to act as the student representative to communicate student concerns to the WAMSS executive and relevant university bodies.

I will end this with an old, Dewruwan proverb; "The phoenix that rises from the ashes is the one that flies the fastest during a storm".

Thank you for your consideration.

Akanksha Das (MD2)

Hey everyone, my name is Akanksha and I am super excited to be nominating for 2021 Undergraduate Communications Officer! I believe that my experience on three clubs over the past two years has given me the skills to ensure that WAMSS welcomes and supports our future medical students through their undergraduate years.

Being UCO requires extensive knowledge of event organising and management oversight which I hope to bring through my experience as the Social Vice-President of Teach Learn GrowxUWA club, Welfare Council Chair in the UWA Guild Welfare Department and Quidditch Representative in the Harry Potter Society. All of these roles required me to organise a plethora of events such as information nights, Quidditch games, stalls, sundowners, welfare initiatives, social mixers and quiz nights; and also complete background administrative tasks. Therefore, I not only understand the importance of teamwork, but also how grueling and stimulating it can be to organise events and simultaneously target team goals. However, I look forward to tackling this challenge in 2021 with an enthusiastic and positive mind-set! As an undergraduate student, I know first-hand how daunting Medicine can seem and I want to help strengthen connections between undergraduate and postgraduate students to ease the difficult transition.

ACADEMIC PORTFOLIO

ACADEMIC EVENTS COORDINATORS (NO NOMINATIONS)

STUDENT GRAND ROUNDS COORDINATORS (2 NOMINATIONS)

Dewruwan Gammanpila, Olivia Shannon and
Nicholas Chatman (MD4)

Hey everyone! We are super excited to be nominating for the role of SGR co-ordinators for 2021.

As well as continuing the great work of SGR 2020, our vision for 2021 includes:

- Creating an SGR Facebook and Instagram page to regularly share useful resources and clinical cases (e.g. research, CXR and ECGs).
- Promoting peer-to-peer case base learning by engaging all students to collaboratively create a continuous tutorial program that is useful, relevant, and topical.
- Adapting the clinical skills program for the new MD1 course to facilitate the transition from foundations to clinical learning.
- Engaging guest lecturers from both metro and rural sites around WA.
- Developing key assessment resources and guides for all year groups.
- Completing 2020 clinical summaries.

Why us?

- We have a structured plan to optimise SGR as an accessible learning platform for all MD students.
- Extensive involvement including being year reps for both WAMSS and UWASS, SGR tutoring, WAMSS Website and IT, IIMC co-ordinator, and multiple subcommittees across WAMSS, Interhealth, and UWASS.
- We are a proven team having successfully worked together as Dr YES co-ordinators.

If you want continuous, structured, and inclusive peer-to-peer learning on clinical skills and reasoning, core topics and more, vote for us for SGR 2021!!!

Nick Leedman, Cody Melvin & Paul Stobie (MD4)

We would love to be your Student Grand Round Coordinators in 2021. For all three of us, involvement with WAMSS has been a joy during our first three years of medicine. Next year we would love to take the reins of SGR, building on work done in previous years with an aim to offer high-yield tutorials and additional study activities to facilitate learning of current curriculum.

All three of us have previous experience with WAMSS including:

- Nick as 2019 SGR Coordinator
- The roles of WAMSS Sport Rep, Undergraduate Communications Officer, and MD1 Orientation Events Coordinator being held between us previously

Our goals for 2021 include:

- Student-led and doctor-led tutorials for all year groups, ALL YEAR
- Fair and easily accessible sign ups
- Reignite the MD2 Clinical Skills Tutorials and "Transition to Clinical Phase" – Clinical Buddy Program
- Introduce a new MD1 systems-based tutorial program
- MD3/4 focused OSCE revision tutorials

With our experience in WAMSS, and our experience within SGR, we hope to support fellow students in 2021 with an extensive and robust tutorial-program. With an element of uncertainty moving into next year with COVID-19, we aim to be flexible and creative with the program regardless of the challenges we may face. It would be an honour to be your SGR Coordinators next year.

OTHER POSITIONS

SPORTS REPRESENTATIVES (UNCONTESTED)

Layaal Mikhael, Helen Abbott, Remy Spring,
Rhys Landwehr (MD2)

If you're looking for an all-star team that has the past 2 HSS female sport reps, a relay for life committee member, a WAMSS Connect TikTok star, a superstar tennis coach and an Australian Ninja Warrior, then look no further.

As your sports reps we aim to be

- Approachable - we would be open to any feedback and happy to be contacted with any questions or ideas 😊.
- Accessible - we all believe that sport should be something available to everyone regardless of your ability and year group.
- Active - not only do we see the importance of being physically active, we also want to ensure that we have a presence, so you know what's going on and when. We'd love to see as many people engaging with all the different sports opportunities on offer.

What we want to achieve

In addition to continuing the strong interfac presence, inter year events and inter-university collaborations we would also look into:

- Introducing regular sporting activities at night that allow students on rotations to attend
- More inter-WAMSS collaborations
 - Sport and WAMSS Mental Health yoga session
 - Sports event in collaboration with WAMSS Connect

So make sure you vote for your all-star team!

RED PARTY COORDINATORS (2 NOMINATIONS)

Kriti Sharma & Emily Barrett (MD4)

We're both super excited to nominate ourselves for the role of Red Party Coordinators 2021! As MD4 students who have learned firsthand the enriching impact WAMSS committees have on a student's experience, we would love the opportunity to contribute further to YOUR experience.

As we hopefully move beyond the restrictions of COVID, our aims for Red Party this year are to bring back the three events you know and love, with our own spin. We hope to make Red Party events more accessible to undergrad students with the hope of making the transition into post-grad and clinical years smooth and supported.

Our aims revolve around promoting awareness of sexual health, with a focus on HIV-AIDS and expanding event capacity to increase our ability to raise funds for Oxfam Australia.

Between us, we have a wealth of experience having held over 15 positions in the past 3 years, involving planning, organising and executing large-scale academic and social events. This includes 3 roles on Red Party itself, meaning we have a thorough understanding of Red Party's current strengths and weaknesses and how we can optimise the committee for 2021.

We'd be honoured to represent such a worthy cause and hope you trust us with your vote!

Jerry Pang (MD3) & Gary Song (MD2)

Hi! Jerry and Gary here, and we're super excited to run for the Red Party Coordinator positions for 2021. Between the two of us, we've had lots of experience organising and promoting events and it would be an amazing honour for us to organise next year's Red Party too! Our strengths lie in liaising with sponsorship partners and fellow committee members and the time management skills required to juggle study with other commitments. Cheers xx

Jerry Pang

- Asian Students in Australia: Fresher Rep (2018), Charity Liaison (2019), Vice President (2020)
- Health Students' Society: Medical Science Rep (2018), Social Rep (2019)
- Societies Council: Ordinary Committee Member (2019)
- A very good singer¹

Gary Song

- Asian Students in Australia – Fresher Rep (2018), Social Media Officer (2019, 2020)
- Electronic Music Appreciation Society (EMAS) – Fresher Rep (2018), Ordinary Committee Member (2019)
- A very good sense of punctuality²

1. Stitches by Shawn Mendes only

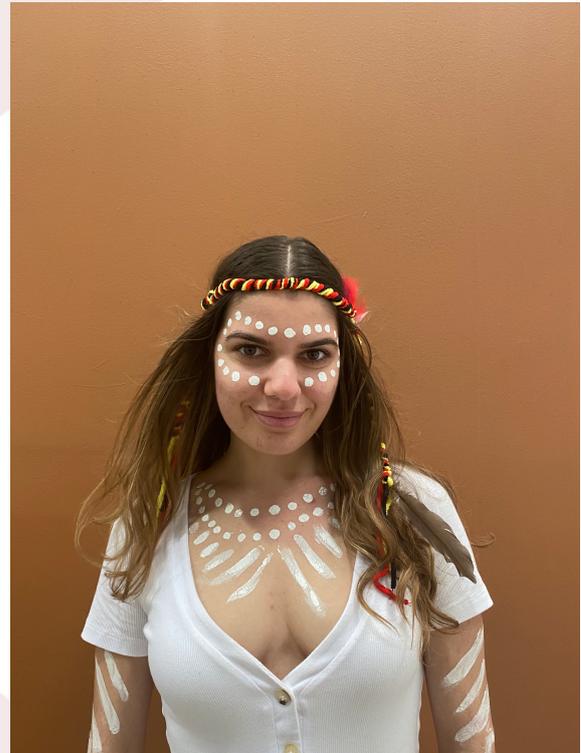

2. Gary once showed up 5min before he was meant to perform with Jerry at a concert (performing Stitches) due to “bowel problems”

INDIGENOUS CHAIR (UNCONTESTED)

Georgia-Rose Gosling (MD1)

Kaya! My name is Georgia-Rose and I am excited to be going for WAMSS Indigenous Representative! WAMSS plays an important role in building foundations for medical students as future doctors, and I would love to be involved in influencing students in areas of cultural competency and advocating for current Indigenous medical students.

As a Whadjuk Nyoongar, and an Aboriginal Health and Wellbeing major graduate, I believe in the importance of advocating on Aboriginal health issues and that all medical students should be prepared to work with Indigenous patients in a culturally safe and appropriate way. I hope for WAMSS to be well-representative for Indigenous medical students and aim to nurture a positive and culturally safe and supportive environment for Indigenous students to feel comfortable to approach me on behalf of WAMSS with any issues being experienced.

Other areas of focus for me will include; cultural awareness and responsiveness, and promotion of Aboriginal health through educational events and community engagement; as well as promoting Indigenous student engagement, networking and student retainment, and fostering a closer knit Indigenous medical student community at UWA with regular semester catch-ups.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICER (UNCONTESTED)

Russell Lim (MD3)

Hey everyone, my name is Russell and I'm thrilled to run for WAMSS 2021 International Officer!

Coming to Perth from Singapore has been one of the best decisions in my life. Participating in WAMSS events, from great parties, volunteering opportunities to unique lectures, has definitely elevated my university experience! By taking up the international officer role, I'll be able to advocate for, and support (warn them of dropbears) other international students to have a great time in Uni as well.

This year, COVID-19 (insert angry vibes) has brought unique issues for international students, as some faced issues with returning back to Perth to continue their studies. Border restrictions also mean that international students may be unable to visit their home countries during breaks. With this situation possibly extending till 2021, I intend to ensure that any concerns of such students are directed to the right channels and addressed.

Being the SHMRC 2020 marketing officer has also provided me the experience of running events and engaging with different student communities. With this experience, I hope to increase collegiality between the international student year groups by organising social events for them. As an MD4 next year, I will be in a suitable position to liaise with regards to internship positions for international students as well.

Thanks for your time and vote of confidence!

QUEER CHAIRS (UNCONTESTED)

Uma Nair (MD2) and Dulasi Amarasingha (MD2)

Hello! We are Uma and Dulasi and we're excited to be nominating together for the Queer Chairs.

Uma (she/her): I have a keen interest in global health and have been the coordinator of Code Green WAMSS and Yira. The contacts I have made through my current role as 2021 AMSA GHC Academics Convener has made me realise how passionate I am about LGBTQIA+ health and how medical schools could be more supportive and inclusive, particularly hospital culture and syllabus content.

Dulasi (they/them): I'm a peer educator at a queer youth centre where I provide peer support to queer identifying youth in Perth. I have volunteered at UWA Health Promotion Unit and Dr YES. I'm passionate about queer education and removing barriers in our medical system especially towards trans and gender diverse people.

Our main goals are

- Collaborate with queer medical students/ reps across WA medical schools to build a safe space and network of support
- Update UWA medical school curriculums and integrate queer health in our medical training
- Promote AMSA Queer project and bring further opportunities for queer medical students to lead the way in shaping queer education and advocacy for all healthcare professionals

DULASI

MATURE CHAIR (2 NOMINATIONS)

Brendan Selby (MD3)

My pathway to studying Medicine is quite different from many. At 43, married and with an 8-year-old child, I definitely fit into the category of mature-age student. I am therefore acutely aware of the unique challenges faced by mature-age students. Mature-age students can find difficulties adjusting to new teaching styles and the increased use of technology in university teaching. They frequently also have other responsibilities to juggle such as child-care.

I found returning to study and completing MD1 very challenging. The family responsibilities can add to the pressure, and I really appreciate all those who helped me through the journey.

I have been involved this year with mentoring some MD1 students and started this because I wanted to support other people in navigating the journey. It can be a challenge for some mature-age students to access the support that they need. In order to provide better support for mature-age students, I have been lobbying to establish the position of Mature-Age Chair and was privileged to present the idea at a WAMSS committee meeting.

I would feel privileged to be the voice of mature-age students on the WAMSS committee and be a source of information and support for other mature-aged students.

Choon Boon (Evangelyn) Sim (MD2)

Hello, there. How are you?

I do not think I am old but I would like to think that I am mature.

Used to be the younger or youngest in all the cohort I had been but when I started MD1 this year, I somehow become one of the oldest of the team (and not just by margin if you know what I mean. :)) It is an interesting and funny change of perspectives.

Being a mature-age student comes with benefits. That means I am sitting on more than a good decade worth of stories and experiences that I am happy to share.

If you are mature soul, I would like to hear your stories.

If you are young spirit, I would like to know what you have been up to.

And hopefully, we can meet in the middle, share our strength and help each other to thrive through this journey together.

WAMSS MENTAL HEALTH CHAIR (3 NOMINATIONS)

Layaal Mikhael (MD2)

Mental health has always been a huge passion of mine. As medical students, we not only have to ensure we look after our own mental health, it is so important that we plan and advocate for how to stay mentally healthy and promote discussion of mental illness, a topic that isn't spoken about nearly enough.

I personally have a lot of experience advocating for matters on a local level, as the TLG University Engagement Manager. My role includes overseeing how all university students hear about what TLG does and the problem we as an organisation are trying to solve, the education gap between rural and remote students. It has also given me experience managing a team to achieve a common goal.

My goals for 2021 include:

- Ensuring that there are adequate de-stressing events catered to what students find useful for themselves, examples include: yoga, regular sports, coffees and chats, movie nights
- Increasing presence and awareness to medical students, through running collaborations and regular events
- Engaging and providing a platform for student opinions and views at all relevant events such as R U OK? Day, Medfest and Blue Week
- Looking to provide discounted MHFA to students through potential sponsorship

Britt Suann (MD3)

My name is Britt and I would love to be your Mental Health Chair for 2021. I would be so grateful to be voted into this position, and to continue the hard work that Lianne Leung has put into the portfolio this year.

If I have learned anything in my meagre two years of Medicine, it has been that life can get incredibly hectic. You are told to work hard and apply yourself as a good student whilst trying to pay rent on time, keep healthy and be a good family member /friend. We adapt to the stress by reducing sleep hours, spending our life's earnings on coffee orders and indulging on a few vodka sodas on the weekend.

As Mental Health Chair, I would love to provide the 2021 community with resources and skills for carving time out for the things you want to do. I would organise events to hear from doctors who remember what it was like to be a student, as well as events where you just get to chill with your mates (ideas ranging from surfing to Inter-year social sport teams to painting with a cheap red wine).

You'll find yourself a passionate Mental Health Chair in me as your representative. I promise to give the role my all and work hard to provide you with all you would hope for in a Mental Health Chair.

Much love,

Britt xx

Nisha Jayachitra (MD2) & Phoebe Sun (MD2)

Hola,

Nisha and Phoebe here. We're super excited to run to be your friendly Mental Health Chairs!

Our goal? For all of us to have the best and mentally-healthiest MD experience possible.

Our vision for 2021 includes:

- Education: running more mental health education events
- Student welfare: A huge focus of WAMSS is... you. We want to ensure you're always okay.
- Raising awareness: Especially in the wider community, particularly around stigma.
- Alongside ensuring the great work from previous years is carried on!

We reckon we're up for the job: we have heaps of previous experience leading successful initiatives for the benefit of the student body and beyond.

Phoebe is President of the Health Students' Society and a GHC 2021 Risk and Welfare Subcommittee Member. She previously was HSS Education VP, a Teach Learn Grow Executive member and a UniMentor.

Nisha is a Dr Yes Coordinator, a Health Students' Society Welfare Officer and UWASS's Undergraduate Representative in 2020. She was a Promotions Officer on WAMSS Mental Health Subcommittee 2019 and has been a speaker for Beyond Blue since 2018.

Thanks for your consideration and we hope you'll vote for us!

Warm hugs,

N&P
